Julia Ericsson specializes in matters concerning intellectual property law & market law and has extensive experience of litigation in said fields.

Julia regularly represent Swedish and international clients in patent infringement and validity proceedings. Her experience covers inter alia cross-border patent litigation covering several jurisdictions, comprehensive copyright and trade secret litigation involving multiple infringement investigations and interim proceedings. She also provide general strategic advice regarding intellectual property and market law matters and advises in regulatory matters (inter alia regarding pharmaceuticals & medical devices). Her clients are e.g. companies in pharma & med tech, the pulp and paper sector, the construction and civil engineering industry, companies specialized in e.g. forest & garden products, manufacturing & machining solutions as well as companies in the software industry.

Julia is ranked by Chambers & Partners, who in its 2022 edition states "Julia Ericsson is known for her impressive patent litigation practice that includes infringement and invalidity proceedings. "She is very easy to work with, and her advice is always concise and well measured," according to clients." She is also since several years recommended by Legal 500 (2018-2022) within Intellectual property and media, and ranked as a Global Leader in patent law by Who's Who Legal (2016-2022), who reports that Julia "is commended by clients who benefit from her "reliable strategic advice and knowledge" and her ability to "go the extra mile to deliver outstanding results on complex contentious patent cases"". She is also ranked as a Leading patent professional in the category patent litigation by IAM Patent 1000 who describes Julia as "super-dynamic", "an "impressive ability to understand the technical data and general information, despite the complex nature of the case," "excellent work ethics" and "legal opinions are outstanding" (2021). Julia also won the Client Choice Award for Intellectual Property - Patents in Sweden 2020 (awarded by ILO and Lexology).

Julia is a board member and treasurer of EPLAW (European Patent Lawyers Association) since 2019. EPLAW is a non-profit making association of experienced patent lawyers in the European community with the aim of promoting the equitable and efficacious handling of patent disputes across Europe.
