Peter Sande specialises in intellectual property law and dispute resolution. Peter has vast experience from litigations concerning e.g. patents, copyright, trademarks and license agreements. He frequently participates in large-scale pan-European litigations. Peter advises research intense companies in regulatory and strategic matters and assists several clients in the entertainment industry. The Stockholm University and others often engage Peter as a speaker.

Chambers, Legal 500 and other international guidebooks repeatedly ranks Peter as a leading lawyer.

"Peter Sande is reputed for his advice on IP litigation. He frequently handles mandates concerning patents, copyrights and trade marks on both a domestic and pan-European level. His clients work in industries such as entertainment and healthcare. Peter Sande is highly appreciated by market commentators, who describe him as a "likeable person, an extremely good lawyer and a very skilled patent litigator." He offers particular expertise in IP disputes in the life science sector."

Chambers Europe 2017

"First among equals is Peter Sande: "His remarkable intelligence and ability to grasp complicated juridical situations as well as detailed and complex technical concepts make him able both to quickly identify and understand the important issues of a case and to find alternative and inventive approaches. Peter's positive attitude, humour and open personality make him a joy to work with."

IAM Patent 1000 2017

"Peter Sande is regarded as "excellent" by sources, and is experienced in national and international IP issues. He has a particular focus on handling litigation cases relating to patents, copyright and trade marks."
